

RGT 2010 | Grow to expect the best

RGT BRADLEY (BUDGET EARLY FORAGE)

FORAGE MAIZE

- Offers a good balance of plant dry down and grain maturity.
- Very good starch yields from the early cob ripeness
- Suitable for difficult sites for later sowings
- Good early vigour, standing power and disease resistance
- Bradley has been previously UK trialed and listed

Maturity	9/10	Early
Dry Matter Yield %	101	Average
Dry Matter %	36	High
Starch Content %	32	Good
ME (MJ/kg)	11.3	High

Previous NIAB figures

FELDI (BUDGET FORAGE/BIOGAS)

- A proven UK maize variety with good yields
- Produces a strong and bulky plant
- Most suited to favorable sites and early sowing
- An economically priced and reliable variety
- Successfully used for forage and biogas production

Bred by

Characteristics

Maturity	5 / 6	Medium/Late
Dry Matter Yield %	102	Average
Dry Matter %	32.8	Good
ME (MJ/kg)	11.1	Good

Previous NIAB figures

Both varieties Mesuroil & Thiram treated, 50,000 seed packs